Stomach-ache

I don't like doctors, nurses, hospitals and medicines. I hate injections. Last November, early in the morning. When I woke up, I had a stomach-ache. My mother heard me and hurried into my room. She saw me in a very bad condition. She drove me to the hospital. When we arrived there, a doctor examined me. He injected me and the pain decreased. In the afternoon, my father bought the medicines and I had to stay in bed for three days.
